Coast Guard Auxiliary At Fox Lake Ordered Disbanded as Flotilla

Antioch Men Members of Chain O' Lakes Organization Affected

A number of Antioch community men are members of the Coast Guard Auxiliary flotilla at Fox Lake which was ordered disbanded from the Coast Guard.

Lt. Cmdr. Roy Hutchins, 9th district director of auxiliaries notified Cmdr. Joe Armondo, head of the unit and the 68 members by letter of his action.

Hutchins said that he believes the members know full well why the action was taken. He said the 9th Coast Guard district had received numerous complaints that the flotilla has been acting in a law enforcing way, which it has no power to do. A warning had been issued.

It was reported that after six former members protested the conduct of the flotilla, the Coast Guard secretly investigated the organization and on a report of the investigation the action was taken.

Sheriff Walter Atkinson said he had issued deputy sheriff badges to eight of the members. Otherwise the flotilla had no police powers beyond that of an ordinary citizen.

In the Fox Lake region it was said the flotilla as it had operated in the past would not be missed. There was no complaint on the action of some of the members, but others who saw the uniform as an opportunity to show authority they did not have, caused the trouble.

Cmdr. Armondo said he would appeal to Congresswoman Church to get reinstatement.

Because of the new address system of reporting fires in some of the subdivisions, the Antioch fire department was able to make an efficient run Sunday night to a residence at 17 Grapevine ave., Channel Lake Bluff when an overheated space furnace caused the fire to burn out. Seek Body of Hunter in Deep Lake; Thought to be Drowning Victim

Members of the Antioch Rescue squad were called to seek the body of Erich Faust, Winnetka man, who had come to Deep Lake Wednesday afternoon for hunting. He had visited Jos. Strohl, a resident of Deep Lake, and gone out alone for hunting. When he failed to return at dark, Strohl called in the Antioch squad. Although a search was made during the night with the aid of portable lighting equipment, neither Faust or the kayak type boat he had taken were found.

The search continued this morning, augmented by the use of an airplane piloted by Bill Horton, with Ken Kirchmeyer as observer. The boat was spotted almost at once by the plane, but no trace of Faust was seen. Horton said that the boat had neither paddle or floorboards, and that a second search from the air would be made this afternoon. High winds this morning has made it impossible to see down into the water. With a lessening of the wind this afternoon it is hoped that visibility will improve.

Effort on the part of Strohl to obtain the services of a Navy helicopter today have not been answered, but it is believed that the request may be granted. Persons engaged in the search expressed the thought that all possible speed in recovery of the body should be made due to the weather conditions at this time, which might cause a freeze up of the lake at anytime.

The Lakeland Baptist Church celebrated its third anniversary Sunday. Its growth from a small group of Baptists in the community to its present size of a substantial congregation has been remarkable, says the pastor, the Rev. John Barber.

The church has been meeting in the Central Baptist Children's Home gymnasium. It has purchased a lot in Lake Villa and plans a building program in the near future.

The church has been financially self-sustaining from the beginning and has supported a full-time pastor for nearly two years. The program is constantly expanding. The Sunday School teachers are now engaged in a training course under denominational supervision.

During November Dr. Leonard Gittings, a missionary of the American Baptist Convention, addressed the Lakeland people.

Services are held each Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School for all ages begins at 10 a. m. The non-churches of this vicinity are invited to attend.

Do Your CHRISTMAS Shopping At Home

Antioch Taking on Holiday Appearance; Stores Have Selection

The business section of Antioch began taking on a holiday appearance this week with the placing of some of the decorations on the light standards.

More decorations will be added from time to time and the village should be well lighted in the next few weeks.

Merchants are bringing out their holiday goods and those who are doing Christmas shopping early are getting their pick of the selections. In the past, shoppers of the area find that they can buy in Antioch the things they want as readily as they can elsewhere and they have the knowledge that the local merchants are back of the things they sell in guaranteeing standards.

Antioch, a number of years ago had the habit of waiting until the last minute and then rushing in and being able to get what it wanted. With new residents coming in and the trading area extending, local people are finding themselves at a disadvantage if they wait too late.

Postmaster Announces New Postal Manual Is Ready for Distribution

Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk of Antioch today directed the attention of mail users major new postal regulations being issued effective yesterday which will provide important changes and simplifications in the use of the mails.

The Post Office Department is issuing a final edition of a history-making new postal manual which contains these changes in simple form. The new manual will bring together in less than 300 pages public-interest postal regulations formerly scattered through 4,000 pages of dense print, Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk explained.

This publication may be obtained at 65 cents a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. And mail users anxious to keep abreast of all changes in this material that may be made from time to time may get both the pamphlet in loose-leaf format and a year's subscription to all sheets making changes for a total of $2, also from the Superintendent of Documents, the postmaster noted.

The revision of the Postal Manual, Postmaster Kufalk said, represents what Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has described as the most complete revision of regulations in the history of the U. S. Post Office Department.

Postmaster Kufalk noted that the new pamphlet and the new $2 package deal give the businessmen and other large mail users the easiest, most complete method of keeping completely up to date on postal information that they have ever had.

The new booklet is so simple that if the shipping clerk, for example, in a small business is ill or absent, other employees can get a ready understanding of the postal rules from the publication, Mr. Kufalk said.

The booklet is also an invaluable guide for the average householder. It shows, for example, how to package fragile materials for mailing; how to attach first class letters to packages; how stamps of unwanted denominations that are unused may be exchanged for others of different values if desired. It also tells about many other matters of special interest to all mail users, he added.

Mail users who have inquiries about any special points in connection with the new publication may direct them to the Antioch postoffice. It should be emphasized, Postmaster Kufalk said, that the booklet represents the "final word" on all postal rules.

Rescue Squad Building To Hold P. O. Overflow

The garage portion of the Antioch Rescue squad building will be used by the Antioch post office as a distributing room to provide extra space for the Christmas rush of business. It will be placed into use Dec. 11.

The Ford garage was formerly used, but was not available this year because of its use in the storage of cars.

Postmaster Roy Kufalk announced that in order to take care of the increased business during the approach of the holidays the office will be open on Wednesday afternoons until Christmas starting next week, but that after Christmas the post office will be closed on Wednesday afternoons again.

Sequoits Favored in Conference Opener at Grayslake Tomorrow

Antioch Undefeated Wins Victory Over Lake Forest Scouts

With three victories in as many starts, Antioch High School's basketball team will begin conference play tomorrow evening at Grayslake.

The Rams were defeated last weekend by the Libertyville Wildcats whom the Sequoits already have defeated this season. Although this situation favors Antioch, the Sequoits realize they have a tough foe and will be primed for a battle.

The first conference game on the Antioch court this season will be next Tuesday evening with Grant High. Grant lost to Richmond 60 to 39 in the Richmond Thanksgiving tournament which was won by Wauconda when the Bulldogs defeated Capron 67 to 52 in the final game.

Wauconda will play here one week from Friday night.

The Sequoits beat the Lake Forest Scouts Thanksgiving eve 65 to 54. Mike Haviland led the Sequoits scoring with 20 points. Antioch led at the quarter 13-9; at the half 21-14; at the third period 43-22. Warren Brownlee was second high scorer for the Sequoits with 15 points.

The Antioch Junior Varsity lost to the Lake Forest underclassmen 25 to 38.

Grade School's First Christmas Concert on Next Tuesday Evening

The Antioch Grade School will give its first annual Christmas concert at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 7, in the grade school gymnasium.

Composers such as Tschalkowski and Rachmaninoff will be represented on the program.

Four band members will be featured as soloists. They are Janice Hughes, Sonya Pickus, Brian Cain, and Stephen Aschenbrenner.

Tickets may be purchased from any band member, band parent or at the grade school.

Band's Minstrel Show Excellent Entertainment For Big Crowd Saturday

The minstrel show staged by the Antioch Community band last Saturday was a big success.

The audience was well entertained by the wealth of musical talent, and the blackened-faced comedians kept the crowd in an uproar.

The interlocutor, William Lahti and the end men, Bill Dow and Leonard DiMatteo, did a good job with Dow starring.

Verne Heath, as a quack doctor with unusual medicine read testimonials supposedly from prominent Antioch citizens, much to the amusement of everybody.

Members of the Ebony quartet were Dr. Irving Breakstone, Dick Kaufmann, Stuart Good, and Fred Yates.

The music throughout was good and the dancers and monologists did especially well.

Ray Lasco won the Pickard china service by identifying most of the numbers played by the band. Comedy was injected at this point too, for without the knowledge of even the interlocutor, a bearer of a cheap set of dishes stumbled and crashed them to the floor, much to the dismay of everybody. Then the real prize was presented.

A consolation prize won by a young woman proved to be a windshield wiper blade which was presented with much formality.

The auditorium of the high school where the show was given, was practically a sell-out, and the band may expect a satisfactory profit. The money will be used in paying for music and other expenses incurred for the public performances last summer.

It is probable that a minstrel show will be staged again next year with even greater improvement than that of this year. Louis Chenette was the musical director of the show.

Chorus to Sing Messiah
The Lake County Chorus will sing Handel's "The Messiah" at Grayslake High school Sunday evening. The group is under the direction of the Rev. Stephen Liddicoat. Three sopranos will divide the solo—Mrs. Richard Ochs of Grayslake, Mrs. Robert L. Tansy of Libertyville, and Mrs. Charles Youngberg of Prairie View. Mrs. Liddicoat will sing the contralto solo, and Raymond Garry will sing the bass solo.

Progress Report

Various factors determine just how good the standards of medical care are in any nation. One is the number of doctors in practice and the quality and extent of the facilities for educating physicians. In this, the United States is exceedingly fortunate.

A report made by the American Medical Association tells the story. The record graduation of 6,861 doctors during 1953-54 brought the nation's physician population to approximately 220,100. This means there is a doctor for every 730 persons in the country—and that too is a new high record.

Moreover, the situation is destined to become still better. Present enrollment in the medical schools is 28,227—the greatest in history.

As for the schools themselves, more than $70,000,000 for 1954-55. And 10 new four-year schools and for remodeling or completion of buildings for medical instruction. Their budgets total over $143,000,000 for 1954-55. And 10 new four-year schools are scheduled to go into operation within the next five or six years.

An interesting and important commentary on medical education is found in the fact that 21,328 physicians taught without pay during the last school year, in addition to the regular all-time faculty members. The doctors, obviously, are vitally interested in giving us both more medical care and better medical care.

Optimism in the Air

In its issue of November 8, Newsweek reports that a "spot check of 20 key centers discloses business sentiment ranging from mild optimism to definite enthusiasm."

A key element in this thinking, the magazine goes on to say, is retail sales figures. Many retail executives are hopeful that business is due for substantial improvement.

The volume of trade in the stores is an important barometer of whether business as a whole is good, bad, or indifferent in this country.

Miracles Are Normal

Early in October a major oil company dedicated a new refinery at Mandan, N. Dak. There is nothing particularly remarkable about such an event. Steady industrial development is something we take for granted. However, it is worth pausing occasionally to think of what has happened in an amazingly brief period of time.

Less than 80 years ago Colonel George A. Custer and his 7th Cavalry rode out from a frontier fort near Mandan to round up some hostile Indians. The vast reserves of petroleum lying deep in the Williston Basin of North Dakota would have had no meaning to Custer and his men. They would have been as stunned as the Indians they were fighting at the sight of a modern automobile. In less than 80 years, thanks to research, invention and industrial development, we have come to accept miracles as normal progress.

The fact that the management and stockholders of a single company have ventured to spend millions of dollars building a 30,000 barrel a day refinery and linking it to distant markets with hundreds of miles of pipeline without causing the raising of an eyebrow in a region where a handful of white settlers were fighting Indians a matter of decades ago, is something for the political detractors of the American system to think about. It should also make all of us realize that payrolls, employment opportunities, and the prosperity of the smallest community are linked inextricably to freedom of opportunity in basic enterprises such as the oil industry.

Are We Spoiled Brats?

The thing that is essential today in this country when we get right down to it is an effort on our part to keep a sense of values. We don't want to be like the pampered infant who has so much he doesn't appreciate any of it.

In recent years the private enterprise system has showered the American people with every convenience. And yet, during this period of tremendous progress and prosperity, "gifts" from government have been demanded with a resulting drift toward socialism and away from freedom.

In this age of wonders are we overly pampered? How far do we have to go before we become a nation of spoiled brats crying for more and more from Santa Claus?

Episcopal Rector Will Begin Sermon Series On Theology of Church

The Rev. Father Edmond E. Hood, rector of St. Ignatius church, will begin a series of sermons at 11 a. m. Sunday entitled "Theology for Every-day Living."

This course of study is definitely aimed at giving Christian laymen a sound and practical knowledge of Christian theology, Fr. Hood announced.

"Certainly, theology should not be looked upon as something we expect and pay the preacher to know," he said. "If Christian laymen are to be of any effect in the modern world at all, and among their fellow-men who surround them, it is necessary for them to know and to be familiar with the dogmas and doctrines of the church concerning God and man, and their respective relationship to one another."

Culture of East And West Meet In Puerto Rico

CAYEY, PUERTO RICO—High in the hills of interior Puerto Rico a private and personal good-will campaign is bringing together the cultures of east and west.

Ever since Mitsue Shigeno Klotzbach moved to the Commonwealth with her family a year ago, the area around this picturesque mountain agricultural center has been treated to a taste of Old Nippon.

Mitsue is the wife of Kentuckian Carroll L. Klotzbach who had to fight Congress to get her into the United States. She is the first Japanese woman to have been permitted to enter the country after the war to marry an American citizen—and it took a special private law to get her in.

Klotzbach met Mitsue in 1948 in Chofu, Japan, where he was civilian chief of the Army's largest hydroponic farming unit in Japan. When he returned to the states in 1949, his attempts to bring Mitsue to this country were hampered by the fact no machinery had been set up for Japanese nationals, and the War Brides Act, pertaining to servicemen, had expired in 1947.

Then living in Florida, Klotzbach took his plea to Governor Spessard L. Holland who introduced the Special Private Law in the Senate. The House passed it on February 7, 1950, and Mitsue soon joined her husband in Washington.

Now, while her husband manages a hydroponic unit being advanced to teach the science to Puerto Rico's farmers, Mitsue dresses herself and two children in kimonos and prepares pungent sukiyaki for visiting guests.

Titanium Strong, Stubborn Metal

WASHINGTON—Titanium, recently added to the United States strategic stockpile, is a real modern "wonder metal" whose potential for war or peacetime industry is equalled only by its problems and contradictions.

Although distributed throughout the world, titanium is found in low concentrations, invariably mixed with other elements.

It is one of the most abundant structural metals in the earth's crust, after aluminum, iron and magnesium. It is light, strong, and resistant to heat, shock and corrosion. Yet its disadvantages, particularly its tendency to absorb gaseous impurities at high temperatures, make it a stubborn, costly material to process.

Consequently, United States concerns have taken even less than the ten per cent of the limited supply opened to civilians earlier this year.

The metal is particularly suitable for high-speed, high-flying jets. It also seems ideal for light-weight tank armor, gun parts, guided missiles and portable bridges. The Navy finds titanium's resistance to salt water invaluable for submarine smoke uses and the Atomic Energy Commission puts titanium to secret uses.

Sugar Is Most Plentiful Compound Nature Gives Us

WASHINGTON—Sugar, one of man's basic foods, made big news twice during the past year—scientists learned how to duplicate it, and the world agreed on how to trade it.

Yet so commonplace is sugar that even such headlines are lost. A natural bounty known and sought for thousands of years, it has grown and produced in present form only in comparatively recent times, now ranking as the most abundant pure chemical compound man takes from nature.

Sugar is essential to life. Every green leaf touched by sunlight turns water from the ground and carbon dioxide from the air into sugar and oxygen. Any animal without sugar in its blood will soon drop dead.

Honey, fruits and succulent grasses satisfied the ancients' sweet tooth. The origin of sugar cane is lost in the past, somewhere in the Orient. Probably it was first grown by man in India, where ancient legends and then the army of Alexander the Great in 327 B.C. spoke of the "honey-bearing reed."

Today the world produces nearly 40,000,000 tons of sugar in a year. 65 per cent from cane and 35 per cent from sugar beets. Americans alone consume over 8,000,000 tons. For 30 odd years, per capita consumption in this country has remained nearly constant averaging a hundred-pound bag per person per year.

Only in late 1953, however, after centuries of trying did science succeed in making sugar in the laboratory from simpler compounds. And this year 40 countries put into effect an international agreement stabilizing sugar production and world prices.

Unique Treaty Calls Indians Back

FRANKFORT, Ky.—One of the most unique treaties ever signed by the Indians and "white men" is commemorated once each year in the little eastern Kentucky town of Barbourville.

Under terms of the agreement, the Cherokee Indians are entitled to take all the cane they want from the Knox County breaks which they use in making baskets and articles at their tribal school in Cherokee, North Carolina. In return for this privilege, the Indians agree to return once each year—all expenses paid—to visit their Barbourville friends.

In October of each year, their return marks the beginning of two days festivities known as the Daniel Boone Festival.

Daniel Boone is honored because the trail he blazed into the Kentucky country from Virginia passed through Barbourville. . . the Cherokees because of tribal claims owned the area until 1775 when Boone and Richard Henderson bought all of that part of Kentucky south of the Kentucky River from the Cherokees.

Potash Mine to Have Longest Conveyor Belt

STAMFORD, Conn. — A potash mine in Carlsbad, N. M., will soon be equipped with the longest conveyor system in the United States, extending seven and one-quarter miles underground.

The longest conveyor system now in operation is in a western Pennsylvania coal mine, measuring five and one-half miles.

The new, record-length "rubber railroad" will operate 1,000 feet down in a potash ore seam about four feet thick. Continuous mining machines will extract the potash ore from the working face of the mine and deposit it on shuttle type conveyors known as Mine-aveys, which automatically transfer it by intermediate belts to the main line or "mother" belts. From there the potash will be carried more than five miles to a 3,000-ton underground storage pile; from which it will be withdrawn as needed.

'Destitute' Refugee Loaded Down With Cash

BRAMPTON, Ont. — An apparently destitute refugee from Hurricane Hazel applied for admission to the Old People's Home.

Then in an old leather purse among her belongings, an official noticed a bulge in the lining.

The refugee, Mrs. Alice Barlow, said, "It's just some stuffing I sewed in."

The stuffing proved to be $16,000 in $100 bills. Also, there was a bank book showing more than $4,000 deposits.

"I was saving for my old age and for a trip to England," the 78-year-old Mrs. Barlow said, "but I didn't think I had enough money."

Pup Has Big Ears

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—A puppy got his head stuck in the hub hole of a discarded automobile wheel. Mrs. Eleanor Rowe and her four children couldn't get it out.

Sgt. L. C. Earnest of the sheriff's force folded the pup's ears back close and pulled it out by the tail. The ears (Cocker spaniel type) had trapped it.

The Lakeland Baptist Church Story

GROWTH:

Here are interesting facts about a substantial church of the Lake region now celebrating its third anniversary. In its short history it has grown to a membership of 140 persons. It has been financially self-sustaining from the start.

LOCATION:

Its temporary quarters are in the gymnasium of the Central Baptist Children's Home of Lake Villa. The two institutions belong to the same Protestant denomination but are organizationally separate.

DENOMINATION:

The Lakeland Church belongs to the American Baptist Convention. This is a major Protestant denomination composed of 7,000 churches across the Northern U. S. A. The leading Chicago official is Dr. Alfred Diman, president of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago.

PROGRAM:

The church carries on a full program of worship, religious education, youth groups, and social fellowship. It now owns a beautiful 1½ acre lot in Lake Villa and now plans a building program.

COMMUNITY:

The Lakeland Baptist church has an attitude of full cooperation with community interests. Its pulpit urges the social responsibilities of Christians and several of its members hold official positions in their townships.

PASTOR:

Its pastor holds the Master's degree from Duke University. He is a native of North Carolina and has preached to large audiences in the U. S. and Canada. He is on the faculties of two colleges of his denomination.

Lake Co. Chapter Delta Kappa Gamma Holds Meeting at Deerpath Inn

Alpha Nu, Lake County Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, National Honor Society for women in education, met at Deerpath Inn, Lake Forest, Sunday, Nov. 21. A luncheon and executive board session preceded the meeting, the theme of which was "Opportunities for Professional Assistance toward the Growth of Society."

A memorial service prepared by Miss Frances Crowder, chairman of the necrology committee, and Mrs. Paul Akers was held in honor of Miss Evelyn Lattip whose death occurred Oct. 22, with Miss Dorothy Bohannon as reader and Miss Annie Ruth Parr as accompanist for group singing of "In Memory." (all of Waukegan.)

The Alpha Nu chorus, composed of Mrs. W. H. Gieseke, Rondout school, Libertyville; Mrs. D. J. Zimmerman, Highland Park; Mrs. Charles B. Watson, Waukegan; Miss Clara Malvey, Highland Park; Miss Nita Benedict, Warren Township High school, Gurnee, directed and accompanied by Miss Annie Ruth Parr, music chairman sang: "A Viennese Melody" and "Prayer of Thanksgiving (Netherlands tune.)"

Miss Florence Dawes of Evanston, second vice-president of Lambda State Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, gave a short talk emphasizing one of the purposes of the organization, "to unite women educators of the world in a genuine spiritual fellowship." Miss Dawes stated that such a fellowship starts right in the local chapter. She also said we must "accentuate the positive" regarding the best interests of education and stressed attendance at state and national meetings to "get the feel" of the organization.

Miss Annie Ruth Parr played a piano solo, "Playera Granados" to close the program.

Miss Doreen Donaldson, Highland Park, president, presided at the meeting.

Salvation Army Tells Of Campaign for Funds Conducted Through Mail

Announcement was made today that the Salvation Army Service Unit committee, of which Robert J. Wilton is chairman, and William E. Brook is treasurer, will conduct its annual campaign for funds for local and regional welfare needs.

Special letters will be mailed to local citizens requesting contributions to be mailed to the treasurer, Brook.

There is only one campaign by mail during the year. In June of each year the annual Doughnut Tag Day is held, and then, as frequently as possible the Army makes available to interested friends, the weekly publication known as the War Cry.

Last year the citizens of this community responded generously, and the committee, as well as the officials of the Salvation Army expressed appreciation for placing this humanitarian organization in a position to render year-round services to people irrespective of creed or color.

A portion of the money is used by the local committee for a program of health, welfare, and cultural activities. The local committee will render services at the point of need to the limit of their funds. Such needs may include clothing for school children, dental, optical and medical assistance, and family welfare needs of all kind.

The remainder of the amount raised will be used to provide maintenance of a maternity hospital for un-married mothers, summer camp benefits for mothers and children, rehabilitation work for men, veterans hospital work, and other facilities, including a reserve fund for emergencies and disasters. The regional program is available in Antioch whenever the need arises.

Chairman R. J. Wilton and committee were whole-hearted in their cooperation with the Salvation Army and its program of traditional services, expressing appreciation for this extension of the Army program into the local community. Brigadier C. Overstake, Divisional Commander for the Metropolitan area, expressed his deep appreciation to the Antioch committee for their expressions of confidence and good will.

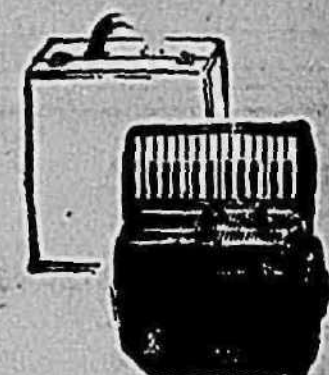

Mr. Wilton urges everyone to give liberally when the Salvation Army drive is conducted here.

The other local committeemen co-operating with and sponsoring the Service Unit are: Margaret Gaston, Roy I. Kufalk, Loren D. Sexauer, and Richard Whitacre.

To cultivate kindness is a valuable part of the business of life.

A SWITCH OF THE PITCH

-AND AWAY YOU GO!

The biggest sensation in years is what

"variable pitch propellers" have done for Dynaflo Drive*

It happens like this. You need pickup—and pronto. So you get it. You get it by pushing the accelerator pedal of a 1955 Buick all the way to the floor board.

Then—without jerk or lag or lurch or pause—you get action! You get action whether you're just starting off—or asking for a safety-surge of power out on the highway.

There's nothing like it in past experience—because there has never been anything like it in an automobile before.

This is action that comes from the principle of variable pitch propellers used on modern planes. Their propeller blades change "pitch" for take-off—and cut hundreds of feet off the time required to lift a plane from a runway.

And the amazing fact is—in a 1955

Buick Dynaflo Drive there are 20 little propeller-like blades that also change their pitch, just like the propeller blades of a plane.

This is a transmission engineer's dream of heaven. A build-up of momentum as smooth as flowing oil—and almost as quick as lightning—plus better gas mileage in cruising range. It's what the whole automobile industry has been shooting for—and Buick has it.

So, that means there's only one thing for you to do. Try out a 1955 Buick, and soon.

Try it out for quick action, as we've mentioned. Try it out for room and comfort and ride. And by all means, cast an admiring eye on its style—for it beats the high-fashion Buicks which set the pattern in the successful year just ended.

We're waiting and eager to hear from you soon. So drop in—or give us a call. We promise you a thrill that no other car can deliver.

U. S. Air Forte Gets High Enlistment Rate

After four months of operation as an independent organization, the United States Air Force Recruiting Service tallied a personnel procurement average of 99.8 per cent according to M. Sgt. William M. Hauk, in charge of the local air force recruiting station located at 325 West Washington st., Waukegan.

Since then the program gained impetus and in August the recruiting service wound up with 98.8 per cent. September was the most fruitful and netted 114.9 per cent. October which was a nip and tuck month ended with 98.2 per cent.

Sgt. Hauk attributes the high enlistment rate in the air force to the fact that more and more of the young Americans have become aware of the educational and technical training advantages available in the air force. In their quest for knowledge and desire for learning trades and skills, thousands of America's youth voluntarily choose the air force as a branch of service which offers great opportunity and at the same time enables them to meet their military service obligations.
